Residents discuss Resolutions for 1983

New Year's Resolutions. Most of us do make them. Yet it seems each year thousands of resolutions are broken, only to be made again the next year.

People at the Poquoson Shopping Center Tuesday morning, Dec. 28, were a bit reluctant to talk with us about their 1983 resolutions. They either had some, but didn't want to let us know what they were, or they hadn't thought about it yet, or they just didn't make resolutions.

Here are comments by some of the people who did tell us what they hoped to accomplish in '83.

Faye Moore doesn't make New Year's resolutions. "If I don't make them, then I won't break them."

Gene Moore plans on getting into better shape for '83.

Bertha Freeman set a particular goal for herself for '83. "I want to be a good Christian and a good girl."

Gerald Patesel, Sr. is a spry and friendly 86 year old with definite plans for the coming year. "I want for myself and others to be healthy, to be happy, and to live to be another year older."

Earl Branch wants to quit smoking and feels if he can do that then he has made a big accomplishment.

Virginia Page plans to do a lot of travelling and make new friends. "I plan on making a trip to New England and to Texas. I love to get out and be with other people."

Debbie Brown said she and her family ate a lot during the holidays. "We plan on going on a diet and getting a lot of exercise. We are new to the area and would like to get involved in some of the sports programs."

Glen Dorman has already quit smoking. "I want to keep it up during the new year."
